Home Builders Association Donates $11,250 to Habitat for Humanity-St. Louis

2010 HBA President Sean Flower of Flower & Fendler, Inc. (left) and Home Builders Charitable Foundation (HBCF) key contributor and board member and Habitat for Humanity-St. Louis board member Jim Brennan of McKelvey Homes presented an $11,250 donation to Courtney Simms, director of resources for Habitat for Humanity-St. Louis, on behalf of the HBCF.

The donation will help Habitat for Humanity-St. Louis reach its hard cost build goal of $2.4 million dollars, which equates to 24 new homes. To date, Habitat has already raised more than $2.2 million. Habitat for Humanity-St. Louis is dedicated to eliminating substandard housing in St. Louis. This is accomplished by a comprehensive program that helps families who are determined to proactively better their lives by investing time and effort into actually building a home, owning a home and becoming a contributing member of the community.

The HBA is a local trade association of more than 800 member firms representing the residential construction industry. The Home Builders Charitable Foundation, the HBA's charitable arm, is a non-profit organization dedicated to providing housing assistance to people or organizations with special shelter needs.
